Thailand’s Annual International Training Course (AITC) 2017

Sufficiency Economy Philosophy: Tool for Sustainable Rural Development

I. Course Title: Sufficiency Economy Philosophy: Tool for Sustainable Rural Development
(Priority for CICA Member Countries)

II. Duration: 30 October – 17 November 2017

III. Closing Date for Applications: 18 August 2017

III. Background Information and Rational

Sufficiency Economy Philosophy (or SEP) “stresses the middle path as an overriding principle for appropriate conduct by the populace at all levels”. “Sufficiency” means moderation, reasonableness, and the need of self-immunity for sufficient protection from impact arising from internal and external changes. To achieve this, an application of knowledge with due consideration and prudence is essential. At the same time, it is essential to strengthen the moral of the nation so that everyone adheres to the principles of honesty and integrity.

In Thailand, an application of SEP in agriculture in many communities importantly serves as a strong foundation for the country’s sustainable development. Recently, an increasing number of communities apply sufficiency agriculture with a focus on organic agriculture.

Maejo University (MJU) is among the most reputable agricultural institutions in Thailand that offer study programmes and conduct research innovations focusing on development that is sustainable, sufficient and environmentally friendly. As an agricultural-based higher educational institution, MJU is aiming to be a leading university specialized in organic agriculture.

V. Objective: The programme is designed to;
- provide participants with understanding on Sufficiency Economy Philosophy;
- enable participants to apply their understanding on SEP in organic agriculture;
- encourage participants to share their local knowledge, culture, belief, tradition, and values relevant to sustainable development and sufficiency agriculture.
